

“Pathways on and off the Page”

An expressive writing and nature connection workshop for counselors interested in developing their own creativity and resilience personally and professionally

Saturday July 20th 2019 Marsden West Yorks

10.00am-4.00pm £85.00 per person

- This workshop will introduce you to some expressive and therapeutic writing techniques*
- We will spend time in nature to stimulate and support our creative explorations*
- It is a taster day for an ongoing monthly CPD/Supervision group starting in September 2019 exploring therapeutic and expressive writing for our own use and with clients*

The day will be facilitated by Pam Winter who is an experienced accredited counselor and supervisor. Pam has used expressive writing and journaling both personally and professionally for many years and also has a deep commitment to the value of nature connection. She runs poetry therapy and writing for resilience groups and is currently working towards credentialed status as a poetry therapy facilitator with the International Federation for Poetry Therapy.

Please ring Pam 07702504983 or email pamwntr@aol.com for more information and see my website for more about me, working in nature and poetry therapy www.path-wise.co.uk